

National Integrity Survey

OurDemocracy.com.au

#OurDemocracy

National Integrity Survey

#OurDemocracy is a nation-wide movement of people and organisations who want a healthy Australian democracy which works for us, not just for the powerful few.

People all across Australia support reforms to bring greater integrity to our political system. The National Integrity Survey is a volunteer led effort to show just how popular many of these reforms are.

#OurDemocracy community members from all over the country collectively spent hundreds of hours letterboxing, having street conversations, and sharing the survey through their networks.

Together we collected 10375 surveys from people in all 151 electorates across the country.

The responses paint a clear picture: there is widespread support for reforms to control the influence of big money and lobbying in our political system.

Survey Results

The Government should establish a federal corruption watchdog.

96%

of people support a federal anti-corruption body

There should be limits on how much corporations, individuals, and other organisations can donate to political parties and candidates.

96%

of people support caps on political donations

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Neutral
- Disagree
- Strongly Disagree

Survey Results

Australians should know who is donating money to political parties.

98%

of people support disclosure of who makes political donations

Large political donations are undermining Australia's system of democratic government.

95%

of people believe large political donations undermine our democracy

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Neutral
- Disagree
- Strongly Disagree

Survey Results

There should be limits on how much money political parties can spend on election campaigns.

95%

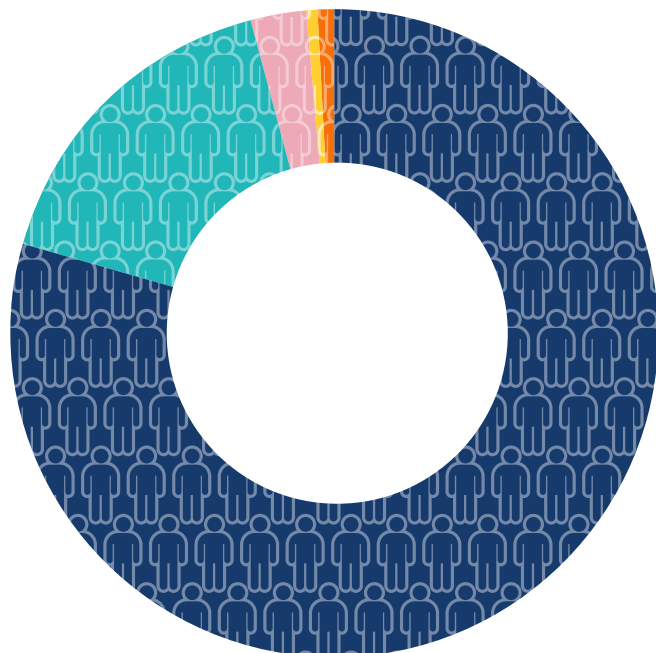

of people support limits on election campaign spending

Politicians should have to publicly disclose which professional lobbyists they're meeting with, and what they are meeting about.

96%

of people support disclosure of professional lobbying of politicians

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Neutral
- Disagree
- Strongly Disagree

Survey Results

We should have truth in political advertising laws to stop politicians and campaigners knowingly lying to voters in elections.

98%

of people support truth in political advertising laws

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Neutral
- Disagree
- Strongly Disagree

What We're Calling For

The National Integrity Survey shows that integrity reform measures are popular with people across Australia. To create a fair democracy, we must:

- 1 Stamp out corruption
- 2 End cash for access
- 3 Level the playing field

The change we seek is big.

The solutions are clear.

The #OurDemocracy campaign has developed the Framework for a Fair Democracy, which outlines the reforms needed to achieve the changes we are seeking to create a healthy democracy that works for everyone.

The Framework draws on international best practice to outline essential measures to reduce corporate influence and restore balance in our politics. It has been developed through significant consultation with leading experts, academics and organisations working on integrity issues.

Find out more at:

<https://www.ourdemocracy.com.au/the-framework/>

#OurDemocracy

OurDemocracy.com.au